

Building a Sustainable World

Education, Dialogue, Cooperation

Thursday, December 4th, 2008 & Sunday, December 7th, 2008

Hosted by Emerge! & Wild River Review

in Collaboration with

The Woodrow Wilson School & The Davis International Center
Princeton University

The Mission

Our mission is to promote sustainable global development by engaging local communities with leaders in education, international conflict resolution and international trade and by building bridges of peace through the arts. Through this dialogue, we can foster informed decision-making in the private and public spheres.

We are grateful to the Woodrow Wilson School and The Davis International Center of Princeton University for their sponsorship and to Heartland Payment Systems for its financial support. The events will kick-off with a 90-minute symposium on Empowerment and Change in the Developing World on Thursday, December 4th at 4:30 PM. We will also host a “village style” charity dinner the evening of December 4th at 7:00 PM to support five non-profit organizations that advance our mission.

The Events

Thursday, December 4th, 4:30pm Empowerment and Change in the Developing World, Robertson Hall, The Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University. A 90-minute symposium moderated by Joy E. Stocke, Editor-in-Chief of Wild River Review.

Thursday, December 4th, 7:00-10:00pm Building A Sustainable World Fund-Raising Reception & Dinner, The Friend Center, Olden and William Street, Princeton University. A global village buffet dinner with live music, dance and cocktails. Proceeds will go towards supporting the work of the five non-profit organizations listed below. Emerge! founder, Rachel Steinberg, will make a presentation.

Sunday, December 7th, 1:00-4:00pm Emerge! Global Bazaar, Chancellor Green Stained Glass Rotunda, Princeton University. The Global Artisan Marketplace returns after rave reviews. Travel to some of the world’s villages and experience the impact of micro-economies at work without ever leaving Chancellor Green!

The Speakers

Robert Carr, Chairman & CEO, Heartland Payment Systems, Founder of Give Something Back Foundation, Princeton, NJ.

Barry Featherman, Founder and President, The Inter-American Economic Council, Washington, DC.

Harriet Mayor Fulbright, Founder and President, The J. William Harriet Mayor Fulbright Center, Washington, DC.

The Non-Profits

Emerge! · The J. William & Harriet Fulbright Center · Wild River Review
The Arts Council of Princeton · The Inter-American Economic Council

For a full description of the event and to learn more about the non-profits, visit us online at wildriverreview.com.

Building A Sustainable World

Fund-Raising Reception & Dinner

Thursday, December 4th, 2008 7pm -10pm

The Place

The Friend Center Convocation Room, Williams and Olden Road, Princeton University, Princeton, New Jersey

The Cost of the Dinner

| |
|--|
| Village Supporter: $125.00 per seat |
| Global Supporter: $250.00 per seat |
| Hosted Premier Tables: $5,000 per 8-seat table* |
| A Wild Peace Table Hosted by Harriet Mayor Fulbright |
| The Inter-American Economic Council Table Hosted by Barry Featherman |
| The Heartland Table Hosted by Robert Carr |
| The Give Something Back Table Hosted by Robert Carr |
| The Wild River Review Table Hosted by Joy E. Stocke |

* All Premier table supporters may co-brand the events and will be listed in printed materials, afforded interview opportunities, and mentioned in press releases.

Payment

Check Payments, EMERGE! c/o Wild River Review – PO Box 53, Stockton, New Jersey 08559.

Credit Card payments, May be made online at wildriverreview.com and earmarked for the event.

Wild River Review is a 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization.

Support Five Extraordinary Missions

If you cannot attend, please consider making a donation to support our missions. Any amount is welcome and gratefully received.

We would like to thank

Peter Soderman

WACHOVIA

Méhék

The dinner/reception on December 4th will not have a rain date nor refunds